Public Forum

Sally Woods, Chess Street, informed council that she is at the Mounds two or three times a week and there have been issues over the years with vulgarity, quads, neighbor issues, etc. which have calmed down lately. There are kids using racial slurs, grabbing their crotches, telling people where they can go and adults putting their animals down the slides. There needs to be written rules and guidelines and possibly a monitor, recreation director, or a recreation board to oversee the parks. It's a beautiful place, let's not let it get destroyed and then they have nothing. The kids need to be held accountable for what they do and this park was done with grant monies and the adults need to set an example for the kids.
